THE FLODDER.
A little bit o' trouble
And a little bit o' song,
From springtime round to winter
The world jes' jogs along.
A snowstorm in November
And a blossom in the May;
World jes' goes ahead an' does
Its duty day by day.
So I shall not bemoan my lot,
Tho' humble it may be;
What's good enough for this old earth
Is good enough for me.

The Ledger Saturday received a sample of Big Sandy Sorghum, the first of the season here on the market. It came from M. C. Russell Co., who leads in getting all the good things.

Saturday night was Halloween, and to the credit of the overgrown smallboy there was comparatively little vandalism. So far as THE LEDGER learns, there was no such malicious destruction of property as in former years, but still there is room for improvement.

A Scientific Discovery.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does for the stomach that which it is unable to do for itself, even when but slightly disordered or over-loaded. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure supplies the natural juices of digestion and does the work of the stomach, relaxing the nervous tension, while the inflamed muscles of that organ are allowed to rest and heal. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and enables the stomach and digestive organs to transform all food into rich, red blood. Sold by J. Jas. Wood & Son, Druggists.

MASON COUNTY MEDICS.

An Interesting Meeting Rounds Up With a Delightful Menu.

Saturday's session of the Mason County Medical Association was a notable one in several particulars.

The attendance was large comprising two distinguished Cincinnatians, Drs. Ransohoff and Culbertson, Dr. Laughlin of Aberdeen, besides several of the laity and members of the local press.

Before the business session at G. A. R. Hall an entertaining talk was given by Dr. Culbertson, who by the way is closely allied to Maysville, and a most interesting paper was read by Colonel R. R. Malthy of Washington, bearing upon the expert determination of insanity as developed in a famous murder trial at his New York home of many years ago. For his thoughtful and forceful reading of this case Colonel Malthy was the recipient of many compliments.

Following this an adjournment was had to the New Central, where this most tempting menu awaited the Doctors and their guests:

Mason County Medical Society, Luncheon, October 31st, 1903.

THE NEW CENTRAL.

MENU.

Queen Olives.
Tomatoes with Lettuce, Mayonnaise Dressing.
Shredded Steak. Cucumbers and Onions.

Baked Halibut with Shredded Potatoes.
Cold Ham. Cold Tongue.
Baked Duck with Dressing, Cranberry Sauce.
Larded Sweet Breads with French Peas.
Baked Italian Macaroni with Cheese.
Mashed Potatoes. Corn Pudding.
Asparagus Tips on Toast. Candied Sweet Potatoes.

Mixed Nuts.
Oranges and Bananas.
Old Limestone Whisky—California Claret.
Wiedemann's Bottled Beer.
La Array and La Constellation Cigars.
Assorted Candies.

The symbol heading of the menu card should not lead anyone to infer that the Mason County Doctors are "dead 'uns," for interest in this part of the program was kept up with unflinching energy, and President Hunter, Secretary Browning, Dr. Taulbee and others were most zealous in doing the honors.

The visitor who went through even a part of the elaborate menu was fortunate indeed if he did not afterward require the services of one or two of the generous hosts.

When the tables had been cleared Dr. Ransohoff, in a most informal yet impressive vein, delivered an intensely interesting address on kidney stones, illustrating his remarks by X-Ray views and various samples of stones. It may justly be said that the great surgeon's talk was the most instructive feature of the day, and none went away without a higher appreciation of the profession to which such men have devoted themselves.

Following Dr. Ransohoff, brief remarks were made by Drs. Taulbee and Ellis, after which the guests departed, revived in spirit and in body.

The Best Remedy for Croup.

From the Atchison (Kan.) Daily Globe.
This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the middle of the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost as sure to be lost, in case of croup, as a revolver is sure to be lost in case of burglars. There used to be an old-fashioned remedy for croup, known as hive syrup and tulu, but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost so much. It causes the patient to "throw up the phlegm" quicker, and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by J. Jas. Wood & Son.

J. C. Cablish, Market street, receives daily Stevenson's Clover Leaf Bread.

Never compare prices without comparing quality; you will find more difference in quality than you will in price. See our monuments and markers before buying elsewhere.

"EVERLASTING DEVIL'S AUCTION."

Managers Russell, Dye and Frank and Business Manager Hamilton of the Washington Opera-house have this to say regarding the coming engagement of Charles H. Yale's "Everlasting Devil's Auction," Wednesday, November 4th: "This production will be complete in every detail; every one of the forty-six 'drops' will be used (being twenty-two more than was used last season) and very bit of set stuff (two big four-horse truck loads) and with the large company of forty-two people you will have the same great production as would be seen in any city theater." Seats now on sale at Ray's Drugstore.

Cartmell extracts teeth without pain.

Frank Hamilton was struck by a C. and O. train at Ashland Friday and instantly killed.

The Court of Appeals affirmed the suit of Hughbanks vs. Hughbanks, from Bracken county.

Go to J. C. Cablish Market street, for the Clover Leaf bread. Rye, Graham, Salt Rising, Vienna, Corn Meal and Cut Loaf Bread daily.

A Good Name.

From personal experience I testify that DeWitt's Little Early Risers are unequalled as a liver pill. They are rightly named because they give strength and energy and do their work with ease.—W. T. Easton, Boerne, Tex. Thousands of people are using these tiny little pills in preference to all others, because they are so pleasant and effectual. They cure biliousness, torpid liver, jaundice, sick headache, constipation, etc. They do not purge or weaken, but cleanse and strengthen. Sold by J. Jas. Wood & Son, Druggists.

The Important Question of COATS!

Have you bought yours? North winds will soon begin to blow—better be prepared. These snappy brisk days emphasize the approaching need of warm coats. An assortment here that admirably corresponds to the taste, the need, the purse of every woman. Details are impossible—we can only generalize. Good Coats for $5, better for $7.50 and so by quality steps to $30.

The Elegant and Practical in Women's Headwear.

Dress hats of velvet, chiffon, jet, chenille and fancy braids in delightful variety. All colors as well as black. The newest shapes—toques, turbans and flares large and small. A broad margin as to price $5 to $15. Then there are Walking Hats simply trimmed but bearing the unmistakable hall mark of New York, their birthplace. $1 to $4 covers the price list.

GIRLS' SCHOOL HATS—One particular style of hat has everything its own way this season for children's school wear—the roll brim sailor. It is chiefly on this model variations of material, of color, and of very simple trimming are made. The popular shades are castor, red, navy, oxford, white, and black. Prices $1 to $2½.

WASHABLE GLOVES.

Travel in them, drive in them, wear them on stormy days that would ruin most gloves, then treat them to a little soap and water and behold—they're as fresh as daisies—$1½. Tan, gray, mode, pearl and white.

D. HUNT & SON.

Mrs. George Fleming of East Second street is quite ill.

Vote for William H. Cox for State Senator, one of your own citizens.

Mr. Mart Minton has been very ill at his home in Forest avenue for several days.

W. W. KING.

Mr. W. W. King died yesterday morning about 2 o'clock at his home near Lewisburg, after a brief illness, aged 66 years.

He leaves a wife, one daughter, Miss Allie Lee King, and one son, Mr. W. P. King. He also leaves a brother, Mr. Noah King, in Fleming county.

The funeral occurred this morning at 11 o'clock from the Lewisburg Baptist Church, services being conducted by Rev. R. E. Moss of this city.

Cured of Piles After 40 Years.

Mr. C. Haney of Geneva, O., had the piles for 40 years. Doctors and dollars could do him no lasting good. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured him permanently. Invaluable for cuts, burns, bruises, sprains, lacerations, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, and all other skin diseases. Look for the name DeWitt on the package—all others are cheap, worthless counterfeits. Sold by J. Jas. Wood & Son, Druggists.

Second-hand Stoves for sale. B. Jeff.

Our friends the Democrats are boastful of the splendid financial condition of Kentucky, due as they say to Democratic administration. They claim that the state is out of debt, with money in the Treasury. This is just the sort of talk that was heard the very week that "Honest" Dick Tate walked out of Frankfort, leaving six cents in cash and a state debt bigger than a barrel. It isn't safe to depend on Democratic reports, financial or otherwise.

Officers of tomorrow's Election can very materially lessen the labors of the Newspaperman, and at the same time gratify the public desire for information. If the Clerks or Inspectors will kindly telephone to THE LEDGER the vote in the several Precincts of Maysville and Mason county, immediately upon completion of the count, the result will be known in an hour or so after the polls close. Please bear this in mind, and send in reports at the earliest possible moment. Use telephone at our expense.

Nine of the thirteen tobacco warehouses controlled by the Louisville Tobacco Warehouse Company have been merged into four houses. Hereafter the company will operate only eight houses, using the others for storage purposes.

At the meeting of the tobacco growers Friday Mr. Thomas Collins of Helena was elected a member of County Board of Control, in place of Mr. Joel Laytham who declined to serve. Mr. W. Scott Osborne was elected County Chairman and Mr. T. L. Holton Secretary.

For November, Collector Samuel J. Roberts has assigned William W. Cherry, John M. Stevenson and Peter S. Rule Storekeepers and William T. Crosthwait Gauger at the H. E. Pogue Distillery; Charles T. Asbury Storekeeper-Gauger at Poyntz Bros. and Storekeeper-Gauger Americus V. Combs to J. H. Rogers & Co.

Judge Faulkner, in a lengthy written opinion handed down at Manchester, granted a permanent injunction against the County Clerks, restraining them from placing the name of W. Godfrey Hunter on the ballots in the Eleventh District as the Republican nominee for Congress. Dr. Hunter gave notice that he would today move before Judge Settle of the Appellate Court at Bowling Green to dissolve the injunction.

A GREAT TRUTH.

How It Has Spread From Home to Home in Maysville.

In every part of Maysville; in the homes of the wealthy; in the humble abode of the man of toil 'tis now a well-known fact—a great truth—that Doan's Kidney Pills have brought more comfort to backache sufferers and cured more sick kidneys than any medicine of modern times.

Mrs. M. C. Chisholm of 343 East Second street says:

"Mr. Chisholm speaks in high terms of Doan's Kidney Pills. He procured them at J. Jan. Wood & Son's Drugstore, corner of West Second and Market streets, and their use proved them to be an effective kidney remedy. I have heard others express their appreciation of Doan's Kidney Pills. A medicine which cures kidney trouble is a most desirable one of which to know."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

When you vote the entire Republican ticket tomorrow you will have the consciousness of an honest effort to redeem Kentucky from the rotten politics that has been dominant in the once proud old state for the past four years.

It is plainly to the interests of the workingmen of Kentucky, as of other classes, that the proposed Amendment to the Constitution shall carry. The effect of the Amendment will be to increase the manufactures of the state, and this means increased opportunities for steady employment for the workingmen. No workman should fail to vote for it tomorrow.

PERHAPS more than any other class Kentucky farmers are interested in the development of the state along manufacturing lines, for the reason that factories bring in skilled labor, increasing population, and the sale of the products of factories brings in wealth from a distance. Obviously, then, we shall have a greater demand for farm products at home—home markets. The proposed Amendment which is to be voted on tomorrow only refers to taxation in cities for city purposes, no change being made as to assessment for state or county purposes.

As cities grow they increase their share of revenue to state and county, and to that extent will lighten or share the burden of taxation in a larger degree as compared with that paid by the farmer. Kentucky farmers vote in their own interest when they vote for the Constitutional Amendment.

Turkey produces a great quantity of oranges and mandarines; nevertheless, it imports lemons from Italy, Syria and Tripoli. The same may be said of Smyrna, Trebizond, Salonica, Monastir, etc.

M. P. V. Bounef, said to be a Bulgarian journalist, has arrived in Paris on a journey round the world on foot with his wife. They expect to do it in fifteen years and to pay expenses by the sale of Postcards bearing their portraits.

Emperor William of Germany has decided to offer a cup to the New York Yacht Club and the Atlantic Yacht Club for a transatlantic yacht race for next year. Sir Thomas Lipton had made a previous similar offer but withdrew it in favor of the Emperor. The race will be an international contest.

A report compiled by the Militia Division of the General Staff of the Army shows that of the fifty states and territories, Kentucky stands lowest in the ratio of the membership of its militia to the male adult population of military age. As a general rule, the percentage of nearly all the states in the Ohio valley is low.

Elections will be held in eleven states on Tuesday. Full state tickets are to be voted for in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maryland, Ohio, Kentucky, Iowa and Mississippi, while in New York, Pennsylvania, Nebraska and Colorado a Justice of the upper Courts, Regents of the State University or minor state officers are to be chosen. Municipal officials are to be selected in Greater New York, San Francisco and Salt Lake.

FALL COLDS.

DANGEROUS BECAUSE HARD TO CURE.

An Offer to the People of Maysville from Our Well Known Druggist, J. C. Pecor.

Our well known druggist, J. C. Pecor, claims he has a cure for colds and coughs, and if it fails he will refund your money. The remedy is Vinol, and we have heard such wonderful results from it that we advise every person in Maysville who is suffering from a cold or cough to try it on his guarantee.

A hard cold and a hacking cough may be the means of undermining your constitution and terminate in consumption. Cough Syrup, while they temporarily allay the spasms of coughing, owing to the opiates they contain, upset the stomach and do not cure the cause; old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions are so nauseating that few can take them.

Vinol is delicious to take, and contains all the active curative principles of cod liver oil in a highly concentrated form, and it is therefore the greatest specific known for coughs, colds and bronchial troubles.

You would not eat an egg, shell and all. For the same reason you should not take old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions, just to get the medicinal curative elements which they contain.

The Vinol manufacturers separate them for you, throw away the useless oil and give you in a delicious, concentrated form all the healing and life-giving elements which are to be found in fresh cod's livers. That is what gives Vinol its wonderful power to cure Coughs, Colds and all throat and lung troubles and makes it the greatest tonic reconstructor known to medicine. J. C. Pecor, Druggist.

Miss Laura Drake Gill, Dean of Barnard College, has been appointed adviser to women graduate students of Columbia University, an office created by the Columbian Trustees about a year ago.

FINAL APPEAL.

To Friends of Kentucky to Vote For Constitutional Amendment.

While the Amendment has the unqualified approval of candidates for Governor of each of the leading political parties and of thinking men, regardless of party affiliations, throughout the whole state, and no organized opposition to its adoption exists, we have encountered here and there more or less antagonistic sentiment, some of it based upon unworthy prejudice, but more of it due to various misconceptions of the true scope and effect of the measure.

The apprehension expressed by some of our citizens that the measure will operate to increase taxation in our cities and towns on real estate is groundless, because the revenue derived from municipal taxation of personal property used in business is relatively small as compared with revenue from taxation of real estate, and as much, if not more, revenue will be derived from the taxation of it under the license system than is now obtained by ad valorem taxation of it.

The adoption of the Amendment will not exempt business personality from municipal taxation, but will open up a way under which it can be taxed for municipal revenue only in a manner to encourage the expansion of our commerce and manufactures, and to enhance the value of our real estate.

The fears entertained by some of our people that the Amendment can be used to increase the bonded debt of our cities, or to increase the limitations of their tax rates, as fixed by their charters, are entirely without foundation, because these things are governed by provisions in the Constitution and Statutes of our state in no way changed or repealed by the Amendment upon which you are to vote.

The people of the great state of Ohio, lying on the Northern border of the Central and Eastern portions of our state, will vote tomorrow upon an amendment of the same character as ours, but of much broader scope in that it takes the whole question of state, county and municipal taxation out of its Constitution and commits it to the Legislature. Our information is that the Ohio Amendment will, without doubt, be adopted.

If we, by any mischance, should fail to adopt ours, what chance will Kentucky have as against Ohio in securing the location of new manufacturing establishments?

There is no class of our people but will be benefited by its adoption—real estate owners, in the enhanced value of their property; merchants and manufacturers in increased volume of their business; workingmen in greater demand for their labor, resulting in higher wages; farmers in enlarged home markets for their produce; lower state and county taxes in the early future, soon to be followed by lower municipal taxes; progress and prosperity for all, under the establishment of Home Rule in local affairs.

MILLIONAIRE'S POOR STOMACH.

The worn-out stomach of the over-fed millionaire is often paraded in the public prints as a horrible example of the evils attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse tortures than the millionaire unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Green's August Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach troubles for over thirty-five years. August Flower rouses the torpid liver, thus creating appetite and insuring perfect digestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system and makes life worth living, no matter what your station. Trial bottles, 25¢; regular size, 75¢. At Henry W. Ray's, next door to Postoffice.

AN APPEAL TO REASON

Shall Kentucky Vote to Hang Caleb Powers?

A VICTIM OF POLITICAL PASSION.

Democratic Machine Makes the Trap-door of Scaffold Its Actual Platform—Demand For Justice and the Unprejudiced Administration of the Law.

And so it has come to this—that the machine organization, representing itself as the once great and powerful Democratic party of Kentucky, has fallen so low as to make the trap door of a scaffold its actual platform and the hanging of Caleb Powers its chief claim for perpetuation in the power it has abused and disgraced. All over Kentucky printed copies of the speeches in the prosecution of Mr. Powers before a packed and partisan jury are circulating. Thrust into the very fire-sides of people by a campaign committee to inflame them into a demand that he be sacrificed on the gallows to the necessities of greedy politicians, who would forever blacken the name of Kentucky, to hold on to offices they already occupy through a theft of the ballots.

Governor Beckham is the author of this issue. He was the first to make the shocking proposition to trade off, for the office of governor, the life of a young man fighting single-handed against the enormous odds of the whole power of a partisan state administration.

Yet this is the governor who has himself polluted the records of the state with pardons to unspeakable villains and malefactors, for crimes so atrocious, so shocking to decency and humanity, and for reasons so frankly partisan, that he has not dared to permit free access to the public books and papers in which his pardons are set out. This is the governor who pardoned Fugate and Hudson, Goodloe Combs, "the Wild Dog," Curtis Jett and Tom White, the preparatory assassins for hire in Breathitt; the ferocious Bevinsons of Pike, and John McDavid, the cut-throat of Graves, first graduate of the whipping post statutes, and scores of other assassins and man-killers.

Not only man-killers, but woman-killers. What Kentuckian that has the old high chivalry of the state in his heart can read the record of the assassination of Samantha Alkman of Breathitt county—shot through the back of the head while fleeing from a savage lust—and does not blush at the pardon of the monster, Joe Raleigh, who slew the girl for defending her chastity? There was the poor old woman, Mrs. McClanahan of Bracken county, brutally murdered for defending her young daughter against debauchery, and her slayer pardoned.

ASSASSINS PARDONED.

Despoilers of homes, violators of chastity, hired assassins and atrocious murderers have been turned out of prison upon one certification ominous enough to arouse the fair-minded as by an electric shock: "They are good Democrats." "Loyal party workers." "He has a father and seven brothers, all good Democrats." "They worked for me in my election"—these are the appeals, shocking in their bald significance, sent to the governor by the makers and supporters of his political machine. And the irresponsible young man, with no thought of the dignity and high honor of his great office, actually has hung wide the prison gates and turned these human tigers loose in response to demands of that character.

Curtis Jett and Tom White returned at once to Breathitt to assassinate Marcum and Cockrill and Cox; Combs to open his "blind tiger," where homicide was a pastime; Branham, turned out for one awful murder, goes home and murders his blind wife, and Virginia has the credit of his hanging. The terrorization of Breathitt, at least, was complete. It has cost the state $100,000 in expense to capture and try Jett and White; it has cost the state many millions in investments and material prosperity, and scores of good lives and the happiness of many homes are gone out that such creatures should go free at the demand of county and district political workers.

What is that to Beckham? Against the contempt of law and the attainments of murder that his irresponsible pardons provoked, there was his "machine" strengthened. Have not his pardons at the demand of Hargis, Callahan, Redwine, Cooper, Bradburn, Felix Weatherford, Cook, Kohn and other political managers—have these not given him control of the elements whose desperate work counts at the primary and at the polls? But at what a price to Kentucky has his ambition been bought!

Not one of these cases was that of a political convict. All were of men whose very neighbors were called on under the law to send them to prison. Every one received that mercy which a fellow townsman is always inclined to show. From every court and every fair and unpacked jury went up the signed certificate of absolute and undoubted guilt. In the Fugate and Hudson cases the highest court of the state uttered an indignant protest against the savage atrocity of the crime and the lightness of the penalty.

All these assassins, rapists and unspeakable brutes Governor Beckham pardoned with a light heart.

But, like a Nero in the amphitheater, he turns his thumb down at Caleb Powers, and cries out to the people he has shocked, "Re-elect me that I may hang this young man. He is a Republican, and I warn you that Belknap will not permit him to be hanged."

CALEB POWERS.

Who is Caleb Powers, and what has been proved against him?

Let no man who prides himself upon his reason and fairness shut his eyes to the record of this, the most extraordinary case in the annals of Kentucky.

Caleb Powers, the man, is of no more importance than a hundred thousand like him; young men, who, for the glory of the state, are filled with ambition to be somebody, to do something noble, to be, at least, captains among the hosts of their fellow-citizens—perhaps a chief leader when character and capacity have been proved. When there are not a hundred thousand such young men in Kentucky the blight of Boetia and the canker of Chilia will have fallen upon the state. It will then, indeed, be a time for fathers and mothers to fly with their children from contamination by stupidity and aimlessness.

Caleb Powers went through the homely and biting struggles that every poor boy born to the heritage of a cabin on the creek and the great open Polar sea of the world must encounter on his way to the blessed dream of his ambition. He had, and has yet, a good old mother, who gave him all she possessed, character and undaunted courage. For all the rest he made himself. By the light of the burning log on the hearth in a mountain cabin he spelled his way through books and compelled education with the hand of indomitable determination. Step by step at the country school, and later through his occupations, he fought his way through the fastnesses of knowledge, fitted himself for the duties of responsible citizenship, and held his eyes with unwavering purpose on his hopes. It is the story of ten thousand young Kentuckians every year; of a million young Americans every year. It is so all over this, the only country in the world where—

"Honor and fame form no condition rise."

It is the story that makes up the biography of every typical American, that sheds undying glory upon our National character and institutions, and makes every such boy a potential Jackson or Lincoln. The way to civic greatness in America is barred to no man with purpose and capacity. In these respects, therefore, Caleb Powers is no more than any other typical young Kentuckian, fighting his way to the Eldorado of fame.

VICTIM OF POLITICAL PASSION.

But Caleb Powers, as the possible victim of political passion and prejudice, his life as the object and price of a political campaign, becomes of transcendent importance to the whole state of Kentucky. Whether a man be a Democrat or a Republican, if he have the good of the state or of any government at heart, his first demand must be for justice and the unprejudiced administration of law.

The whole question in Powers' case, long clear to the people of the state, is whether this man is to be sacrificed to a political theory for revenge; whether the Republican party is to be damned by the hanging of one of its elected leaders in order that a theft of the ballot may be forgotten in the punishment of a terrible assassination through a vicarious victim.

That is the whole question. Caleb Powers has never been convicted of complicity in the murder of William Goebel in any proper court by any fair jury, as the spirit of the constitution of this or any republican form of state government demands, or as the safety of society requires. Three times he has been tried before partisan courts, by juries packed by his political enemies, by the aid of perjured and carefully drilled testimony, backed up by the whole power of the state government with $100,000 of reward funds to buy informers and perjurers. Three times has a verdict of guilty been pronounced against him, and yet each time the state has rebelled at the verdict as not warranted by justice or the facts.

DARK AGES RECALLED.

If Caleb Powers had been rushed to trial and execution in the midst of the heat and passion that Senator Goebel's murder aroused, it might have been forgotten as an act of uncontrollable public excitement. But nearly four years have passed, reason has resumed its sway among all but the political clique speculating yet upon the magic of Goebel's name, and still the ghastly tragedy of persecution stalks its course among the counties of the Fourteenth Judicial district.

We now look back in horror at mediaeval days when men and women were burned at the stake or broken to death in agony after a trial before their religious enemies, and call them the Dark Ages. Yet something like this has been going on in Scott county in a political court, and there are still good men so blinded by political zeal that they can not see any wrong in it.

In the remarkable speech that Caleb Powers made in his own defense at Georgetown at his last trial he summarized with masterly power the progress of the political movement to avenge Senator Goebel's death on the whole Republican party, through leaders selected for that purpose.

There have been nine trials—three of Powers, three of Jim Howard, and one each of Berry Howard, Henry Youtsey and Ripley. Every jury has been solidly Democratic, whatever the complexion of the county whence the jurors were chosen. In Bourbon county, where the last Powers jury was selected, the votes cast indicated that an impartial allotment of jurors would have produced seven Republicans and five Democrats. Affidavits were made that the sheriff's officer passed over Republicans and summoned their Democratic neighbors; that out of 176 men summoned, 172 were regular Democrats. It was given out that one of the jurors was a Republican, but it turned out that he had been a supporter of Mr. Goebel, and voted in the Beckham primary last spring.

Every jury solidly Democratic, trying political opponents on accusations into which the commonwealth's attorney, assisted by a notorious and corrupt criminal lawyer from Cincinnati, injected every atom possible of political virulence and zeal, before courts prejudicing every hearing with plainly expressed sympathy for the prosecution, with perjured witnesses giving and changing their testimony to suit—yet nothing has been proved against Powers but a suspicion that he may have been privy to Goebel's assassination by the hand of Henry Youtsey, the degenerate crank, who admits that he planned the deed and denies he executed it.

But it has been abundantly proven that Powers was a Republican, that he was a dauntless man, that he was elected secretary of state, and when the movement was started to rob the Republicans of their offices he insisted that all the privileges of the bill of rights and the constitution be exhausted to prevent it. He has never denied that much. He has admitted that he may have made mistakes, but the very courage that led him into mistakes was guaranty that he did not stoop to countenance the assassination of Goebel.

APPEAL FOR FAIR PLAY.

He has not been afraid to admit all that he did or purposed to do, even though the accepted responsibility for it might, under legal construction, put a noose about his neck. He hasn't a drop of the coward's blood in his heart. When the prosecution bantered him with not having a "conscience" in court to escape the death penalty, as Youtsey had done, Powers thus replied:

"No, I did not; no, I never will. You can turn every stone of this land into a scaffold, every tree into a gallows, every home into a grave and I will yet be found here as long as my frail form stays above the green turf, fighting my case and maintaining my innocence. And if there is any blotch upon the fair name of Kentucky by reason of these trials, that blotch will be written by the pen of the prosecution. It has never been written, it will never be written by a pen of mine or by my submitting and giving up and having 'conscience' fits when I know and the God above me knows that I had no more to do with the killing of Senator Goebel than any man on this jury."

No finer outburst of unstudied eloquence and intrepid courage ever sprang from the lips of man. It might have been uttered by Robert Emmet himself, who, like Powers, might be condemned by political pressure, but whose dauntless soul no persecution could overawe or frighten. It is impossible to read Mr. Powers' extraordinary review of the evidence and the facts in his own case without believing and feeling that it is the speech of a man who abhorred the crime with which he is charged more than do the men who are pursuing him and who are the political beneficiaries of it.

When the day comes that Caleb Powers shall be hanged "according to the forms" of judicial murder, after such mockeries of trials as he has had, the blackest page of Kentucky's history will be written. It will be written by the most vindictive and selfish group of time-servers and self-seekers that has ever been cast up as the flotsam and jetsam of political accident. And the name signed to his death warrant will go down to obloquy, while Powers' will rise clear as the years go by. No crime of political passion was ever yet vindicated by time.

The people of Kentucky, who have been appealed to give their votes to Beckham in return for the promised death of Powers, should reject the proffer with scorn. It has never been, and never will be, that Kentuckians refused fair play to a brave man. They should cast their votes for that man for governor who is not pledged nor committed to any action except such as his cool and deliberate sense of justice shall approve, when the whole case shall have been heard and con-

Let us Pay

For a 50c. Bottle of Liquozone, to Show You What it is.

If you suffer from a germ trouble, let us buy a bottle of Liquozone and give it to you to try. It is liquid oxygen—the best thing in the world for you. And in germ diseases it does what all medical skill cannot do without it. We had faith enough in it to pay $100,000 for the simple right to make it. We know its results so well that we will gladly pay for your test. Won't you, if you need it—in simple fairness to yourself—have faith enough to send us this coupon?

Just Oxygen.

Liquozone is simply liquid oxygen—no drugs, no alcohol in it. It is the discovery of Pauli, the great German chemist, who spent 20 years on it. His object was to get such an excess of oxygen in staple form into the blood that no germ could live in any membrane or tissue. Oxygen is life to an animal—the very source of vitality. We would die in three minutes without it. In this liquid form its effects are exhilarating, purifying, vitalizing. But germs are vegetables, and this excess of oxygen is deadly to vegetable matter.

We Offer $1,000

on every bottle of Liquozone for a germ that it cannot kill. And there is no other way to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any germ-killing drug is a poison to you, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine never destroys inside germs.

We spend 14 days in making each bottle of Liquozone, yet we offer you the bottle free. And we supply it to physicians and hospitals everywhere at almost cost. In this fair way we are trying to introduce this product to everyone who needs it. If you will be as fair with yourself, we will gladly show you how any germ disease can be cured.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone kills the germs, wherever they are, and the results are inevitable. By destroying the cause of the trouble, it invariably ends the disease, and forever.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Letters from Women

Cured by the use of Kodol are received daily. Their troubles nearly all begin with indigestion or other stomach disorder.

If the food you eat fails to give strength to your body, it is because the juices secreted by the stomach and digestive organs are inadequate to transform the nutrient properties of the food into blood. That is indigestion. The system is deprived of the amount of nourishment required to keep up the strength, and the result is that one or more of the delicate organs gradually grows weak, and then weaker, until finally it is diseased. Here a great mistake is made. That of treating the diseased organ. The best doctors in the land make this very mistake. Why should they? It is so easy to see that the trouble is not there.

Kodol Cures

This famous remedy puts the stomach and digestive organs in a healthy condition so that rich, red blood is sent coursing through the veins and arteries of every muscle, tissue and fiber throughout every organ of the entire body, and by Nature's law of health, full strength and vigor is soon restored to each. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders.

I have taken Kodol for nearly two months after each meal and it is the only remedy that gave relief from the terrible pains I endured. After a time I would take it but once a day, and now, while I keep a bottle handy, I seldom need it, as it has cured me. Mrs. J. W. COOLBAUGH, Milo Center, N. Y.
